Creed and Purpose

To perpetuate the memory of our shipmates who gave their lives in the pursuit of duties while serving their country. That their dedication, deeds and supreme sacrifice be a constant source of motivation toward greater accomplishments. Pledge loyalty and patriotism to the United States of America and its Constitution.

In addition to perpetuating the memory of departed shipmates, we shall provide a way for all Submariners to gather for the mutual benefit and enjoyment. Our common heritage as Submariners shall be strengthened by camaraderie. We support a strong U.S. Submarine Force.

The organization will engage in various projects and deeds that will bring about the perpetual remembrance of those shipmates who have given the supreme sacrifice. The organization will also endeavor to educate all third parties it comes in contact with about the services our submarine brothers performed and how their sacrifices made possible the freedom and lifestyle we enjoy today.

The Coastal Carolina Base is full speed ahead with a full slate of activities planned for 2015. Commander Backes is actively setting up the calendar for incoming Commander Fletcher, Vice Commander Rowe, Base Treasurer Kuhn, Base Secretary Underwood, Base Chaplain Dixon, and Base COB Williamson. Commander Backes implemented several new activities during his command that incoming Commander

Fletcher intends to continue. Plans are well underway for the Azalea Festival Parade and Southeast NC SubVet District Meeting. Soon after the parade the Base will participate in the Belks Spring Charity Sale which raised over $1,500 for the Base in 2014. Coming up following the Belks fundraising event, CCB Members and their families plan to enjoy a Memorial Day Memorial Service and picnic at the S-28 Memorial in Battleship Park. The 2014 event was a lot of fun with

Base Commander's Corner

By Charlie Backes

By the time you read this I will no longer be your base commander. I want to let each of you know that it has been my pleasure to serve you in this position. I will miss some of the things that go with being the leader of a great group of men, and I will not miss at all some of the other things that happen, hopefully, behind the scenes. Thank you for the opportunity.

I have started work on the Belk Sale mail-outs. This is our primary fund raiser for the year and as such it deserves your attention. We are not asking much, but if we all chip in it will finance us for the upcoming year. We do have some additions we want to make to the float, some contributions to charitable causes, and other obligations in our budget that was passed a couple of meetings ago. Please return the money for the tickets and then go to the sale and spend the tickets like cash. If you need more tickets just call or email me for some. I will be glad to oblige.

We will install new officers at the meeting after the Azalea Festival Parade at the battleship. The meeting is going to be in the theater instead of the wardroom, as in the past. You can show your support for the incoming officers, of which three will be new to their office. The lunch promises to be great and a wonderful surprise will be there for desert. The surprise will help us celebrate the birthday of the submarine force. Hope you make it.

I hope that, as a unit, we continued to build on a strong foundation provided to us by the previous officers. Let us continue to build on that foundation and make the Coastal Carolina Base greater than we are now. Good luck to us and the incoming officers.

Charlie

From The Vice Commander By Chuck Fletcher

I have been looking back over the last 63 years of military actions that have involved submarines. These activities span the theaters WWII to the present.

The roll of the SUBMARINE has varied from active combat to that of espionage. I have used excerpts from an article by the late Dr. Joyce Brothers

A SUBMARINER

The tragic loss of THRESHER with 129 men had a great impact on the Nation. One cannot mention the Thresher without observing how utterly final and alone the end is when a ship dies at the bottom of the sea...and what type of men accept this risk.

Togetherness is an overworked term, but in no other branch of our military service is it given such full meaning as in the so called "SILENT SERVICE". In an undersea craft, each man is totally dependent on the skill of every other man in the crew, not only for top performance, but for actual survival.

Coastal Carolina Base Donates Hot Water Heater to the Kramer House for Returning Veterans

Commander Backes presents check for $350 to buy a hot water heater for the Step-Up-for-Soldiers Kramer House project. A plaque will be placed on the hot water heater indicating it was donated by the Coastal Carolina Submarine Veterans. The Kramer House will be a transitional home for returning veterans, along with their families, who are attending local universities.

Book of Members

The Book of Members project continues to progress. The base is collecting pictures of each member and autobiographical descriptions of each member's Submarine Service experiences. Base Secretary, Bill Underwood, is taking pictures of each member attending each meeting. Commander Backes displays the Book of Members at Base meetings to encourage participation.

We are still missing pictures and autobiographies for most of the Base Members. A suggestion was made at the last meeting to write the autobiography for those who don't submit one. In the true spirit of the submarine brotherhood, we have composed an autobiography for Dilbert Kilroy, TM3 (SS) (page 14). Please get your write up in to Charlie so we don't have to write these for you!

| USS Scorpion (SS-278) Lost on January 5, 1944 with the loss of 77 officers and men in the East China Sea, on her 4th war patrol. It is assumed she was sunk by a mine. |  |
| USS Argonaut (SS-166) Lost on January 10, 1943 with the loss of 105 officers and men off Rabaul, on her 3rd war patrol. While attacking a convoy she torpedoed a Japanese destroyer, who along with 2 other destroyers depth charged her. As she tried to surface, the destroyers sunk her by gun fire. |  |
| USS Swordfish (SS-193) Lost on January 12, 1945 with the loss of 83 officers and men somewhere near Okinawa, on her 13th war patrol. Probably was lost to a mine. |  |
| USS S-36 (SS-141) Lost on January 20, 1942 with no loss of life on her 2nd war patrol. She ran hard aground on a reef and radioed for help. The entire crew was rescued by a Dutch ship after they scuttled her |  |
| USS S-26 (SS-131) Lost on January 24, 1942 with the loss of 46 officers and men in the Gulf of Panama, on her 2nd war patrol. She was accidentally rammed by the USS Sturdy (PC-460) and sunk within seconds. The CO, XO and one lookout on the bridge, were the only survivors. |  |
| Boats Lost in February | |
| USS Barbel (SS-316) Lost on February 4, 1945 with the loss of 81 officers and men on her 3rd war patrol. Based on Japanese records, she was bombed near the southern entrance to the Palawan Passage. The day before, she reported she survived 3 depth charge attacks. |  |
| USS Shark I (SS-174) Lost on February 11, 1942 with the loss of 59 officers and men on her 1st war patrol. Shark was the 1st US submarine sunk by enemy surface craft in the Pacific. She was most likely sunk by depth charges. |  |
| USS Amberjack (SS-219) Lost on February 16, 1943 with the loss of 72 officers and men on her 3rd war patrol. Off Rabaul, she was attacked by a Japanese patrol plane, attacked by a torpedo boat and then depth charged by a subchaser. |  |
| USS Grayback (SS-208) Lost on February 27, 1944 with the loss of 80 officers and men on her 10th war patrol. She appears to have been caught on the surface in the East China Sea by a Japanese carrier plane whose bombs made a direct hit. During this patrol she sank 4 ships totaling 21,594 tons and was tied for 11th in the number of ships sunk. |  |

She carried out several notable special missions, including carrying over two tons of gold bullion out of Corregidor in February 1942. |  |

Tolling of the Boats

At Each Base Meeting We Honor the U.S. Submarines and Crews that were Lost at Sea
Following are the Submarines Honored in the First Quarter

Boats Lost in March

USS Perch (SS-176)

Lost on March 3, 1942 near Java with no immediate loss of life, while on her 1st war patrol. She survived 2 severe depth chargings in less than 200 feet of water by 3 Japanese destroyers. The crew abandoned ship and scuttled her. Of the 61 officers and men taken prisoner, 53 survived the war.

USS Grampus (SS-207)

Lost on March 5, 1943 with the loss of 72 officers and men, on her 6th war patrol. She was lost in Vella Gulf, sunk after engaging 2 Japanese Destroyers.

USS H-1 (SS-28)

Lost on March 12, 1920 with the loss of 4 men as they tried to swim to shore after grounding on a shoal off Santa Margarita Island, off the coast of Baja California, Mexico. Vestal (AR-4) pulled H-1 off the rocks in the morning of 24 March, only to have her sink 45 minutes later in some 50 feet of water. She was originally named the USS Seawolf before becoming H-1.

USS Triton (SS-201)

Lost on March 15, 1943 with the loss of 74 men. She was sunk north of the Admiralty Islands during a fight with 3 Japanese Destroyers. Triton was the 1st boat to engage the enemy in December 1941 off Wake Island, sinking 9 ships, 1 submarine and a destroyer.

USS Kete (SS-369)

Lost on March 20, 1945 with the loss of 87 officers and men at the end of her 2nd war patrol. Probably sunk near Okinawa, by a Japanese submarine that itself was subsequently lost.

USS F-4 (SS-23)

Lost on March 25, 1915 with the loss of 21 men. She foundered 1.5 miles off of Honolulu when acid corrosion of the lead lining of the battery tank let seawater into the battery compartment, causing loss of control. F-4 was the first commissioned submarine of the U.S. Navy to be lost at sea. She was raised in August 1915.

USS Tullibee (SS-284)

Lost on March 26, 1944 with the loss of 79 officers and men, on her 4th war patrol. It's believed she was a victim of a circular run by one of her own torpedoes. The lookout was the only survivor and he survived the war as a Japanese prisoner

USS Trigger (SS-237)

Lost on March 26, 1945 with the loss of 91 officers and men, on her 12th war patrol. She was lost during a combined attack by Japanese antisubmarine vessels and aircraft. Trigger ranked 7th in total tonnage sunk and tied for 8th in number of ships sunk.

Each knows that his very life depends on others and because this is so, there is a bond among them. The risks are an inspiration rather than a deterrent.

It certainly is a test of man's prowess and power to know he can qualify for this highly selective service.

There is nothing dare-devilish about motivation of the man who decides to dedicate his life to the submarine service.

The country can be proud and grateful that so many of its sound young, eager men care enough about their own stature in life and the welfare of their country to pool their skills and match them against the power of the sea.

I earned my Dolphins June 1953 on USS BOWFIN, we were still playing clear the bridge and using practice torpedoes.

I went thru two other WWII boats, one a converted snorkel. Then I converted to Nuclear and was assigned to take the first nuclear submarine, Nautilus, to sea for the first time. I qualified on NAUTILUS and SKIPJACK.

My conclusion: I and all the rest of us who wear the DOLPHINS, retired or active are still qualified to perform the duties as required.

The mission of the boats today has changed, but qualifications of the personnel and the equipment are more than enough to meet the needs.

great food, great conversation and bocce ball. Please mark your calendar and plan to spend Memorial Day, May 25, with your Sub-Vet brothers. This year we are planning to start at 1300 hours and wrap up around 1630 in time for attendees to move over to the BB 55 Fantail to enjoy the Battleship Memorial Day festivities. Chuck & Joy attended the Battleship Memorial Service last year and said it was a first class event that members should not miss.

The 2015 June meeting will be held in Jacksonville at the Golden Corral Restaurant at 10:30. CCB members are encouraged to attend this special meeting for the convenience of our Base members from our northern territory.

Likewise members are encouraged to attend the August 15th meeting in Southport. The Coastal Carolina Base has members from a very wide territory (Raleigh to Morehead City to Shallotte). Consequently we are trying to make it easier for the members who live on the periphery of CCB territory to attend meetings and enjoy the comradery of their SubVet brothers. Please try to attend at least the meetings in your area. A "Well Done" to BB and the SubVets from the Raleigh area who blaze the the trail to make it to most CCB meetings where ever they are. We always enjoy your presence and contribution to our meetings.

John Williamson has stepped up to take the COB role in the CCB and has also taken responsibility for organizing the CCB participation in various parades. John and Base Storekeeper Frank Blackmon are working on improvements to the CCB Float including additional signs and a sound system to play Submarine sounds like the Diving Alarm, Collision Alarm, etc. Riding the Float in the parades is great fun with a lot of positive feedback from parade attendees and is also a great recruiting tool. few new SubVets come up to the Float and just want to chat with other Submarine Veterans. As you know, no one understands a submarine veterans stories like another SubVet.

Once again this year the CCB Float will be in the Official North Carolina 4th of July Parade in Southport. It is always a great event. This year Chuck & Joy Fletcher have invited parade attendees to join them on their 46 foot Yacht, Sea Nest, for lunch after the parade. We had a great time last year and many of us enjoyed the opportunity to feel the gentle waves while eating lunch. Chuck may even light off the diesels for those of us of pig boat heritage.

Commander Charlie has agreed to become the Base Historian when relieved as Base Commander. Charlie implemented the Base Historian role during his Command and Howard Crist got it off to a good start with submarine history lessons at several of the Base meetings. Charlie plans to bring an historical element to each meeting in 2015.

All in all the Coastal Carolina Base is planning many options for CCB members to get together and enjoy the fellowship with other submarine veterans and their spouses.

All You Have to Do is Attend CCB Events!

CCB Members Visit Member Jerry Leppart

“MINI” TARHEEL BASE MEETING HELD AT JERRY LEPPART’S HOUSE ON 19 MARCH 2015

Meeting Roll Call: Gordon Banks; Jim Davis; Butterbean Dixon; Bob Govern; Duane Gow; Arv Klemp; Bill Lowe; and Chaplain Bill Whelan.

The main agenda item was offering “words of encouragement” for Jerry after his front yard fall and the resulting damage to his right leg and ankle.

Jerry had voiced regrets that his injury will not allow him to attend the next Tarheel Base meeting next month- the first meeting he will miss since joining the Base. So, eight of the Base members brought an early meeting to him. Jerry was most appreciative of our visit.

Several of the Subvets present told some “sea stories” relating to experiences they had while handling the task of blowing sanitary tanks aboard their boat.

Chaplain Bill figured that was enough of the “tall tales” and closed the get-together with a prayer for Jerry’s speedy recovery.

Respectfully submitted by Secretary Bill Lowe

Submarine Veterans from Tarheel Base and Coastal Carolina Base Visit Albemarle Sound Base

Coastal Carolina Base Chaplain, Bill (Butterbean) Dixon led a group of Submarine Veterans from the Tarheel Base and the Coastal Carolina Base to attend the March meeting of the Albemarle Sound Base.

The meeting was held at 1000 hours on Saturday March 7 at Frank Jones Soda Shoppe in Edenton, NC. BB reported that Tarheel Base WWII Submarine Veteran Bill Whelan and Tarheel Base and Coastal Carolina Base members Bob Govern, Bill Lowe and Butterbean enjoyed the comradery and fellowship with the subvets of the Albemarle Sound Base. They were all somewhat envious of the meeting space that the Albemarle Base uses.

the Soda Shoppe is very well decorated with submarine and veteran memorabilia.

The Albemarle Base was founded in September 2008 and currently has 23 active members, 10 of which are Holland Club Members.

San Francisco Visits Yokosuka During Western Pacific Deployment

By Lt. Jason House, USS San Francisco Public Affairs Officer
FLEET ACTIVITIES YOKOSUKA, Japan (NNS) -- The Los Angeles class fast-attack submarine USS San Francisco (SSN 711) arrived at Yokosuka Naval Base Jan. 6, for a port call as part of a deployment to the Western Pacific.

With a crew of approximately 140, San Francisco will conduct a multitude of missions and showcase the latest capabilities of the submarine fleet.

"I'm proud to be in command of such an outstanding crew on this very capable warship," said Cmdr. Jeffrey Juergens, San Francisco's commanding officer. "We are privileged to be able to contribute to the readiness of our nation while enhancing theater cooperation in this region."

San Francisco's deployment is part of an ongoing rotation of deployed forces to support maritime security operations and operations in international waters around the globe working with other coalition maritime forces.

"The crew has done a great job so far on this deployment," said Senior Chief Machinist's Mate Justin Gruber, San Francisco's chief of the boat.

For many of the crew members, this is their first time visiting Japan.

"I'm looking forward to seeing the Tokyo Tower, having some authentic Japanese food, and experiencing the Japanese culture," said Logistics Specialist Third Class Zach Ingle.

Measuring more than 360 feet long and weighing more than 6,900 tons when submerged, San Francisco is one of the most covert submarines in the world. This submarine is capable of supporting a variety of missions, including anti-submarine warfare, anti-surface ship warfare, strike, intelligence, surveillance and reconnaissance.

San Francisco is one of five Los Angeles-class submarines home ported in San Diego, California.

Pilot Program to Let Navy Women Keep Their Hair

GREAT LAKES, Ill. (NNS) -- In an effort to standardize training and education across the military services, Recruit Training Command (RTC) and Officer Training Command (OTC) will run a pilot program, which will no longer require female accessions to cut their hair.

The pilot program, which will run from January through March 2015, comes after receiving fleet feedback that junior Sailors and officers are not taught proper grooming standards with longer hair.

This shift will align the Navy with every other armed forces service, which do not require female accessions to cut their hair. RTC and OTC required all females with long hair to cut it to the lower edge of the uniform collar. Now, female Sailors will have the ability to choose any hairstyle that meets uniform regulations. Females requesting a haircut may still receive one.

"We are constantly considering fleet feedback and policy changes to improve training and quality of life during initial accession and indoctrination into the Navy," said Rear Adm. Rich Brown, commander, Naval Service Training Command (NSTC). "We are here to serve the fleet and provide the initial training to our men and women so that they are mentally and physically prepared for the rigors of military service."

NSTC is considering a similar pilot program change regarding male recruits, following the pilot of the new female haircut program. Male accessions at Officer Candidate School and RTC are required to have their heads shaved to an eighth-inch upon arrival. They receive follow-up haircuts, which result in a regulation haircut by the time they reach graduation.

The Coastal Carolina Base is a proud to be one of the six USSVI bases that comprise the United States Submarine Veterans of North Carolina, aka NCSubVets!

USSVI Who We Are

We are all United States Submariners! Whether currently Active, Retired, Reserve or a Honorably discharged veteran, we all were and some still are members of the elite under-seas fighting force of the United States Navy. We are all volunteers who passed stringent testing, challenging training and we proved our mettle when we earned the coveted designation "QUALIFIED IN SUBMARINES". Whether your dolphins are gold or silver, there is no expiration date on the back of that precious pin.

Coastal Carolina Base Library

Yes the Coastal Carolina Base has a Library. The library was started in 2011 to give members a place to put their books, movies and submarine artifacts so they can be enjoyed by other members. The library grew significantly in 2013 with the generous donation of 25 books by USSVI Life Member, Bob Montore.

Several other members have also donated books, movies and artifacts.

Below is a partial list of books in the Base Library. Members can check out a book by dropping an email to the Base Commander or COB, John Williamson and the COB will bring it to the next meeting or agree to another way to pick it up.

Donate your submarine related books, movies, and artifacts to your base library!

A lady goes to her priest one day and tells him, 'Father, I have a problem. I have two female parrots, But they only know to say one thing.'

'What do they say?' the priest asked.

They say, 'Hi, we're hookers! Do you want to have some fun?'

'That's obscene!' the priest exclaimed,

Then he thought for a moment... 'You know,' he said, 'I may have a solution to your problem. I have two male talking parrots, which I have taught to pray and read the Bible... Bring your two parrots over to my house, and we'll put them in the cage with Francis and Peter. My parrots can teach your parrots to pray and worship, and your parrots are sure to stop saying that phrase in no time.'

'Thank you,' the woman responded, 'this may very well be the solution.'

The next day,

She brought her female parrots to the priest's house... As he ushered her in, She saw that his two male parrots were inside their cage holding rosary beads and praying...

Impressed,

She walked over and placed her parrots in with them... After a few minutes,

The female parrots cried out in unison:

Hi, we're hookers! Do you want to have some fun?'

There was stunned silence...

Shocked, one male parrot looked over at the other male parrot and says,

'Put the beads away, Frank, Our prayers have been answered!'

I was going to the drug store and went in the wrong door into the Navy recruiter. Before I could get out, I had joined the Navy. I was in Great Lakes for 6 months and went through boot camp three times. For some reason I had trouble marching in time with the others. Finally, I got out of boot camp and went to Torpedoman A school. To my surprise I graduated top of the class and then was sent to sub School in New London. While at sub school, I accidentally set fire to the Escape Training Tower and was immediately transferred to the USS Pickle (SS 69) which was in the Philadelphia shipyard. I spent most of my time there wandering the base looking for a nosepiece for a water slug. Apparently they are in high demand and very hard to find. I would get there just after the last one had been picked up. On the boat I stood topside watch for 4 years. The worst was in January and February on the 00-0400 or the 0400-0800 watches. It was so cold I had 5 sets of foul weather gear on. Once I fell overboard into the Delaware and bobbed around for an hour before the oncoming watch pulled me out. Finally, the Captain had a guard shack moved on to the deck for the topside watches. It was so warm that the first night I had watch, I fell asleep and, when the Engineering Officer came on board at 0315, I was startled and accidentally shot him in the foot. He threw the guard shack overboard. I finally got qualified 4 days before my enlistment was up. My mother was worried that I would get seasick, but I never did. It might have been because we never went to sea.

USS Louisville Visits Okinawa During Western Pacific Deployment

By Lt. Hobart Kistler, USS Louisville Public Affairs Officer

WHITE BEACH, Okinawa, Japan (NNS) -- The Los Angeles class fast-attack submarine USS Louisville (SSN 724) arrived at Okinawa Naval Base Jan. 6, for a port call as part of a deployment to the Western Pacific.

With a complement of more than 140 officers and men, Louisville showcased the latest capabilities of the submarine fleet in its latest mission.

"Louisville brings to the theater a very capable multi-mission platform with nearly unlimited endurance for independent operations," said Cmdr. Bob Figgs, Louisville's commanding officer. "My highly trained crew is proficient in all core mission capabilities, from open ocean anti-submarine and anti-surface ship warfare; to intelligence, surveillance, and reconnaissance, and precision land strike."

"They have worked tirelessly to prepare for and execute the first three months of our six-month deployment, and I could not be prouder of their accomplishments. I know that my officers and crew are looking forward to some well-deserved liberty here in Okinawa," said Figgs.

Measuring more than 360 feet long and weighing over 6,000 tons when submerged, Louisville is one of the stealthiest, most modern attack submarines in the world.

Louisville's stealth, mobility, endurance, and firepower allow this covert, multi-mission platform to operate independently or in conjunction with a Carrier Strike Group or joint forces to support the interests of the United States wherever and whenever needed.

"Each and every member of our crew has devoted a lot of time, hard work, and energy towards preparing themselves and Louisville for this deployment," said Chief of the Boat, Master Chief Fire Control Technician Larry Williams. "It is only because of the crew members that we are successful as a team. I am excited for the crew to be able to do what a lot of them have joined the Navy to do: see overseas countries and represent the U.S. Navy well. This port call is definitely well deserved by the crew, and each and every one of them has been looking forward to the visit."

For some of Louisville's crew, a visit to Okinawa means more than time at the beach.

"My family and I have studied Okinawa's Shuri-ryu martial arts for more than ten years," said Culinary Specialist Seaman Jarritte Bryant, of Columbia, South Carolina. "After so much hard work, I plan to take advantage of this great opportunity to visit a real-life dojo and meet one of the order's masters!"

Louisville is the fourth United States ship to be named for Louisville, Kentucky. Commissioned on November 8th, 1986, at Naval Submarine Base New London, Connecticut; Louisville is the 35th nuclear powered fast-attack submarine of the Los Angeles class. Louisville is home ported at Hawaii's Joint Base Pearl Harbor-Hickam.

RECOGNIZING A STROKE

Sometimes symptoms of a stroke are difficult to identify. Unfortunately, the lack of awareness spells disaster. The stroke victim may suffer severe brain damage when people nearby fail to recognize the symptoms of a stroke.

Now doctors say a bystander can recognize a stroke by asking three simple questions:

Remember S*T*R*T

- S * Ask the individual to SMILE.
- T * Ask the person to TALK and SPEAK A SIMPLE SENTENCE (Coherently) (i.e. Chicken Soup)
- R* Ask him or her to RAISE BOTH ARMS.

If he or she has trouble with ANY ONE of these tasks, call emergency number immediately and describe the symptoms to the dispatcher.

New Symptom of a Stroke

T* Stick out Your Tongue!

NOTE: Another 'sign' of a stroke is this: Ask the person to 'stick' out his tongue. If the tongue is 'crooked', if it goes to one side or the other that is also an indication of a stroke.

Belay That!

In the First Quarter 2015 the Tarheels returned from sea just Wednesday, March 25, after another great run at sea. The Tarheels performed in unprecedented manner in this last underway and I continue to be amazed by the spirit of the crew to rise up and be awesome. I want everyone reading this to know that the Tarheel crew is responsible for the ship's success and now those inspecting us agree with what I have been saying for so so long. This is the best crew on the planet. With this success comes the burden of sustaining excellence. This crew is very humble and hungry and I could not be more blessed to serve alongside such top notch submariners. Gary Montalvo

Scenario 2:

Johnny and Mark get into a fist fight after school.

1957 - Crowd gathers. Mark wins. Johnny and Mark shake hands and end up buddies.

2014 - Police called and SWAT team arrives -- they arrest both Johnny and Mark. They are both charged with assault and both expelled even though Johnny started it.

Scenario 3:

Jeffrey will not be still in class, he disrupts other students.

1957 - Jeffrey sent to the Principal's office and given a good paddling by the Principal. He then returns to class, sits still and does not disrupt class again.

Ceremony celebrates Colorado keel laying

NORTH KINGSTOWN, R.I. – The keel for the future Virginia-class submarine, USS Colorado (SSN 788) was ceremoniously laid during a special event at General Dynamics Electric Boat Quonset Point Facility, March 7.

Navy, shipyard, and elected officials, including Secretary of the Navy (SECNAV)

Ray Mabus and Colorado Secretary of State Wayne Williams, gathered for the time-honored Navy tradition.

As today's submarines no longer have a traditional keel, the initials of the submarine's sponsor, Annie Mabus, daughter of the SECNAV, were welded onto a steel plate that will be permanently affixed to the submarine's hull.

"This makes me proud to be sponsor of this ship, proud to be here for this exciting time for women in the Navy," said Mabus. "And this is due in no small part to my father, who taught me that women belong everywhere, and those who do not think so are wrong."

While under construction, the submarine is known as Pre-Commissioning Unit (PCU) Colorado and already has 100 crew members, of its full complement of 132 officers and enlisted personnel, assigned.

Upon commissioning, it will be the third Navy ship to bear the name USS Colorado. The first was an armored cruiser in 1905, while the second USS Colorado was a battleship that took part in the invasion of Tarawa during World War II.

SECNAV highlighted the future that the submarine Colorado and his daughter, as sponsor, will now share.

"She's the personal bond between the people who serve in this boat and the American people, who [those] in this boat, will protect," said SECNAV as he introduced his daughter. "There are a lot of stages to bringing a marvel like this submarine into existence. This ceremony and the actions that led us here today will transform steel and wire and electronics into a living boat."

"An important ship-building milestone, this keel-laying begins the building of a new ship, and continues the long tradition and strong connection between the people of New England and our Navy," wrote SECNAV in an open letter to the Providence Journal published the day of the keel-laying ceremony. "Today the partnership between our men and women in uniform and the people of New England is playing a vital role in maintaining America's seapower and presence around the world."

The keel-laying is the first of four celebrated events in the life of a ship or submarine; the others being: the christening, commissioning, and de-commissioning.

Construction of Colorado began in 2012. The submarine's christening ceremony is expected sometime in 2016 and the submarine is slated to be delivered in 2017.

USS Colorado (SSN 788) will be approximately 377 feet in length, displace some 7,800 tons while submerged, and able to operate at speeds greater than 25 knots (28 mph).

"This fast-attack submarine and the people who will build her here in the Electric Boat shipyard give us a technological edge," wrote SECNAV. "It is also an opportunity to highlight the strong commitment we continue to make to increase the size of our Navy fleet."

USS Maryland SSBN 738 Successfully Undocks at Norfolk Naval Shipyard

NORFOLK, Va. (NNS) -- Norfolk Naval Shipyard (NNSY) successfully undocked USS Maryland (SSBN 738) Feb 21. SSBN 738 is now pier-side to finish its Engineered Refueling Overhaul (ERO), a complex, major shipyard availability at the submarine's mid-life point that enables the submarine to operate for its entire design service life. Maryland has been at NNSY since Dec. 2012.

Some of the major jobs during the availability include ship systems overhaul, specifically the replacement of distilling plants with a reverse osmosis unit; replacement of the service turbine generator rotor with a low-sensitivity rotor; installation of an upgraded 500 kilowatt motor generator; and local area network upgrades.

Undocking was achieved despite high winds challenging crane service, unusually cold weather preventing the normal process of washing down the dry dock, and several inches of snowfall. When it became apparent the effort might fall short of maintaining the planned undocking date, volunteers pitched in from around the shipyard to assist.

"The team has shown great perseverance and refused to give up," said Project Superintendent John Darlington. "It took the entire shipyard to help us get through the snow event, and we have proven that when everyone works together we can be successful. This is a proud project team and we will continue to work together to give the shipyard more successes in the future."

In addition to the small amount of production work to still be accomplished on the boat, system testing and certification and Ship's Force training will be conducted, culminating in sea trials later this year.

NNSY, a Naval Sea Systems Command field activity, is the oldest industrial facility belonging to the U.S. Navy, and specializes in repairing, overhauling and modernizing ships and submarines.

When complete, Colorado will be the nation's 15th Virginia-class fast-attack submarine.

Virginia-class submarines are built with a reactor plant that will not require refueling during the planned life of the ship, reducing lifecycle costs while increasing underway time.

The Colorado is also the fifth of eight planned Block III versions of the Virginia-class submarine.

The Block III versions are being built with a revised bow and new Virginia Payload Tubes (VPTs) designed to increase missile-firing and payload possibilities. Each of the two large VPTs is 87-inches in diameter and able to house six Tomahawk Land Attack Missiles (TLAMS).

General Dynamics Electric Boat and Huntington Ingalls Industries-Newport News Shipbuilding build Virginia-class submarines under a unique construction contract.

"The Colorado will soon sail the world's oceans in defense of our country, and her journey started right here," concluded SECNAV in his published letter.
